

ALAN SHARMAN AGENCY

Tariq M

Film & Acting:

After years of people suggesting it, I finally, enrolled at the Birmingham School of Acting (2008). Then after achieving a Certificate from Trinity College London, Grade 8 in Performance Arts in Production from the Birmingham School of Acting, where upon completion we staged a 3 hour, live performance, of 'The Balcony'.

T.V:

I have since had a few roles as an extra in Doctors, Hustle, and also played a small part in the BBC series hit 'Line of Duty'.

FILMS – (YouTube).

‘Wormholes’. - A James Eaves Film,

I recently also played one of the lead characters, and acted in a 30 minute, Time travel, film that went to the Edinburgh Film Festival as well as various other Film Festivals. (See link below)

A fantastic script to a comedy about a marriage proposal with the added benefit of a ‘Wormhole’ to travel back in time, in case she says no!

September 11th.

I have also played the part of a hearing ‘father’ of a young Deaf Muslim girl experiencing 9/11 and the backlash.